As a Content Manager (f/m/d) on the Uplay PC team, you are responsible for organizing information, documentation & assets so that anyone working on the project can browse & access it easily. You will ensure key content is written & up to date for everyone on the project.

The content manager will also rely on content management standards & best practices within Ubisoft.

The overall mission of a content manager is to identify and organize documentation, information and assets so anyone needing it can easily find, access and use it. The goal is to minimize time spend on searching for the right content and to avoid duplication of work because content cannot be found and therefore is created.

The Content Manager is responsible for:

- Gathering team requirements regarding content & features needed on the project
- Identifying & organizing key content within the production. Ensure this content is formalized, structured, shared & accurate
- Define information architectures, taxonomies and metadata strategies (frameworks for grouping and tagging content);
- Defining the governance (access rights, workflows, archiving policy, etc.) and ensure it is respected and it is applied by all teams on the project
- Providing content templates in order to accompany users in their content creation process
- Enriching content with metadata & tags to improve content findability on the production
- Defining workflows to ensure content is always enriched by the right experts at the right time
- Archiving & cleaning content on an ongoing-basis in order to keep the workspace used & useful
- Relying on user feedback, statistics and benchmark in order to improve the workspace and the way content is organized.
- Supporting teams on a daily basis to manage more efficiently their content to improve collaboration & communication
- Training people on how to create, manage & access content
- Accompany newcomers in their content onboarding

- Relaying on the production to share useful content outside the project (KC, Portfolio) & reuse resources coming from other projects
 - Evangelize content management best practices and support the evolution of content management ambassadors within the team.
 - Prepare and facilitate content workshops with clients, stakeholders or/and end users
- 1 - 2 years of experience in digital content or information management
 - A Bachelor's or Master's degree in Information Science, Journalism, Technical writing or Communications preferred
 - Knowledge of content management concepts and best practices
 - Ability to balance strategic vision and tactical to-dos
 - Fluent in English
 - Detail oriented, self-starter (autonomous)
 - Excellent verbal and written communication skills
 - Strong presentation skills
 - Strong organizational skills
 - Experience working in fast-paced/agile environments

Optional, but considered a plus:

- Familiarity with Confluence
- Knowledge of supporting software/tools, e.g. Markdown, or Gliffy
- Experience with leading change management process a plus
