- Connect and partner up with teams across Ubisoft towards quality initiatives
- Provide high value quality-related services to development leadership
- Being accountable for the quality of work and relationships on teams
- Drive test development, estimation, planning, execution, reporting and closure
- Project, manage and maintain schedules for testing activities
- Plan and maintain defect management processes and tools
- Keep QA and QC processes and documentation up to date
- Influence and champion software development best practices and customer experience
- Analyze product quality and usability, associated system limitations and report on risk
- Create, monitor and control metrics impacting product and team quality

What you bring:

- Experience leading test teams: 2+ years
- Experience in game/software testing: 5+ years
- Knowledge of gaming platforms (Xbox One, PS4, PC, etc)
- Proficiency in issue tracking tools (e.g. JIRA, Asana, Bugzilla)
- Experience with test management tools (e.g. TestRail, Xray)
- Demonstrated experience in test planning for complex features/systems
- Proficiency to work in spoken and written English
- Worked on at least one title as testing lead from production to release
- Passion for video games and software quality

Nice to have:

- Any coding knowledge: XML/HTML, JavaScript, Python, Java, C/C++/C#, SQL
- Certification in any of the following: PMP, Scrum Master, ISTQB-ATM
- Experience with automation test methods
